Charges A-Bill Threat

Knowland Says Dems Served Ultimatum In Marathon Debate, Vows to Stand Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) accused Democrats today of serving an "ultimatum" on him in the marathon debate over the administration's atomic energy bill.

He said he is prepared to meet the challenge of his opponents and "stay here until Thanksgiving" to pass the bill and the rest of the Eisenhower legislative program.

Knowland won a standing ovation from his GOP colleagues, but Democrats gave no sign of breaking the deadlock, which Knowland said is threatening "complete impotence and complete paralysis" of the Senate.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-N.Y.) said he and other foes of the atomic bill were acting "in complete sincerity" and added that Knowland could have laid the measure aside and gone on to other measures.

Knowland's voice broke with emotion several times during his 45-minute speech.

At one point he read from an interview Sen. Anderson (D-NM) had given to newsmen earlier today to the effect that any parliamentary tactics by Senate Republican leaders to cut off debate would be certain to bring on more talk.

"Who was serving the ultimatum?" Knowland demanded.

Then, his voice rising to crescendo, he said that opponents of the bill sought to leave him "helpless and disarmed" and expected him "to abdicate his responsibility."

"That I will not do," he cried.

Noting Anderson's statement that the Senate might "be here until Thanksgiving" because of Knowland's summary action last night to kill an amendment offered by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), Knowland declared:

"If that be the challenge, we will meet the challenge. If it is necessary to stay here until Thanksgiving to pass this bill and the rest of President Eisenhower's program, we will stay here until Thanksgiving."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) gained the floor and asked, "Who started this filibuster?"

"I'll tell you," Humphrey answered himself. "Not a single soul in this debate other than the majority leader ordered us to stay all night." Humphrey continued, "Does anyone think we're transacting the nation's business at one o'clock in the morning?"

"We're not doing business—we're just serving time," he continued. "It doesn't take leadership," he continued, "to say we will have all night sessions."

It takes leadership, he added, to say there will be no all night sessions, to transact business in an orderly manner.

Humphrey said no one denied Knowland's right or power to kill amendments without debate and to seek to invoke a debate-limiting rule.

"We've had nothing but discipline, discipline, discipline," Humphrey added, "and it isn't working."

A little earlier in the day Knowland had professed optimism that the debate was drawing to an end.

"I think we'll wind up the bill today," Knowland told a reporter. "We'll wait her out and see."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), floor manager for the measure, was less hopeful.

"I don't think we'll finish by midnight," he said in a separate interview. He did not venture an opinion on how long the continuous session might run.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) ended at 12:22 p.m. (EDT) a speech he began at midnight. The 12 hours, 22 minutes speech brought his total speaking time on the atomic bill to 29 hours and 15 minutes.

At the end, his voice was slightly hoarse but still full of vigor as he lambasted tactics of the GOP leadership.

Each side in the embattled struggle blamed the other for the prolonged deadlock.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a top strategist in the fight against the administration bill, said tactics used by Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) had blasted chances for an early end to the marathon battle.

"We'll be here to Thanksgiving now," Anderson told reporters.

Knowland, advised of Anderson's remarks, said they would be "almost humorous if times were not so serious." He suggested there was irony in "obstructionists" and those "active in a filibuster" seeking to "place the responsibility on the leadership."

Three Planes Encounter Jets Off Hainan; U. S. Sends Strong Protests to Red Chinese

American Planes Escort Pan American Airliner

HONG KONG (AP)—Three airline pilots reported encounters with jet fighters off Red-held Hainan Island today—two with U. S. planes and the other with unidentified jets.

A Pan American World Airways pilot reported he was "escorted" for a few minutes by four U. S. Navy jets. The airline office here said no request had been made for fighter escort for its planes.

The two other pilots asserted their transports had been buzzed by fighter planes.

Capt. Homib Misty, pilot of an Air India plane which arrived here from Bangkok, reported his craft was buzzed by two United States jets about 100 miles off Hainan at 3:30 p.m.

And Capt. Jack R. Brugger of Paris, pilot of Air France Conq, said four unidentified jets buzzed his transport about 100 miles off Hainan.

Brugger described the planes as "the shape and color" of Communist MIG jets.

The incidents occurred in the general area where a British airliner was shot down by Chinese Red fighters Friday with a possible loss of 10 lives, including three Americans.

Misty said he "saw two more U. S. jets about six miles away." He estimated his position as 100 miles north of Tourane on the Indochina coast. Misty described the planes as "of a black color."

Brugger said four unidentified jets followed his plane for four minutes and then swooped over the right side and across the Constellation's nose before they disappeared.

The Air France transport, bound from Saigon to Tokyo with 20 persons aboard, landed safely at Hong Kong's Kaitak Airfield at 1:19 p.m.

Brugger said the fighters were in color but that he could see no markings. He said they were "definitely not" United States jets.

Brugger said his plane was two hours out of Saigon and flying at 17,000 feet when the four fighters appeared behind him.

The transport continued to Tokyo.

Later Capt. Max C. Weber of Great Barrington, Mass., pilot of Pan American World Airways transport which arrived here from Bangkok, reported he was "escorted" for a few minutes by four U. S. Navy jet fighters.

U. S. Denounces Fighter Air Attacks on Airplanes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sent two strongly worded protests to Communist China, denouncing fighter plane attacks on a British transport and American rescue planes.

The State Department, in announcing this today, said the British government has been asked to present the two protests as an aftermath of the weekend plane clashes in the South China Sea.

Press Officer Henry Suydam told a news conference the U. S. notes cover both the shooting down of British airliner some 30 miles south of Hainan Friday and Red fighter attacks Monday against American carrier planes which were searching for possible survivors. Three Americans were killed and three wounded when the British transport crashed in the sea.

Suydam declined to make public the texts or to provide detailed information about the notes which were drafted and given to the British late yesterday through the American Embassy in London.

Diplomatic sources reported, however, that the United States denounced the "brutality" of the Communist attacks.

The department's announcement came about the same time that the Peiping radio reported the Chinese Red regime had lodged a "grave protest" against the shooting down of two Communist planes by U. S. Navy planes on Sunday. The department declined comment on the Chinese action.

In London, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told parliament that Britain already has the American notes for relay to the Red Chinese. Tokyo monitors reported that the Chinese Communist radio had announced the Peiping government was lodging a "grave protest" over the shooting down of two Red planes off Hainan Island Sunday by U. S. Navy aircraft.

A statement issued by Vice Foreign Minister Chang Han-fu claimed the American planes violated Chinese skies in shooting down the planes.

The United States insists the Red planes attacked over the open sea.

At the Capitol, it was disclosed that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had asked Secretary of State Dulles to appear for a closed-door session at 4 p.m. It was scheduled to deal with the German (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 5.)

Cease Fire Ordered

French, Vietminh Call End to Some Battles More Than 7 Years After Hanoi Attack

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French and the Vietminh ordered firing stopped in part of Indochina today — 7 years, 7 months and 8 days after Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's rebel legions attacked Hanoi.

The truce negotiated at the Geneva conference became effective in North Viet Nam at 8 a.m. (8 p.m., EST, yesterday).

The armistice is scheduled to spread gradually over the four other sectors of the war-ravaged Southeast Asia land, becoming effective on Aug. 1 in Central Viet Nam, Aug. 6 in Laos, Aug. 7 in Cambodia and Aug. 11 in South Viet Nam.

Hanoi's big guns roared sporadically throughout the night before the cease-fire became effective and the Vietminh kept up pressure on outlying posts manned by Vietnamese units. In recent days the Reds have concentrated on such posts in an apparent effort to encourage desertions and prevent the native troops from moving south with the departing French.

There were no early reports, however, of any large-scale fighting in the last hours before the truce time.

There was no certainty that the killing and wounding had stopped in North Viet Nam.

This was a "cease-fire, not a signed peace."

Mines sowed along the roads and paths and in the rice fields may take their toll for months.

No one could be certain that all the thousands of Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas or all the irregulars loyal to the French-supported Viet Nam government had received the stop-fighting word or would obey it.

Many observers believe it will be a matter of only a few years before the communist engulf all of Viet Nam and perhaps Laos and Cambodia as well.

The cease-fire agreement provides for internationally supervised elections in July 1956 to unify Viet Nam. The French commander in the North, Gen. Rene Cogny, said recently he believed South Viet Nam could be defended militarily against the Reds, but he only shrug when asked about the political prospects. Many French civilian officials here share Cogny's doubts of the future.

With the cease-fire, Cogny turned his effort to the mammoth task of moving his thousands of French and Vietnamese troops from their shrunken sector of the northern delta to the southern holding left to the Viet Nam government headed by ex-Emperor Bao Dai.

The Vietminh were expected to take control rapidly of the territory being evacuated.

The first phases of the military withdrawal began with the armistice hour. Companies began falling back to their battalion headquarters within 80 days from today.

The complete withdrawal to the port of Haiphong.

By Aug. 11 Cogny must have soldiers and civilians being evacuated from north, west and south of Hanoi massed in a 10-mile zone around the North Indochina capital, once the official seat of French power in the Far East.

They must be out of the Hanoi area within 80 days from today.

From Haiphong, midway on the route, 20 days after that. The evacuees have 300 days from today to quit their Haiphong beachhead, destined to be the last French foothold in North Viet Nam.

Not all the Vietnamese troops will be moving south. The French admitted yesterday that a number of the native soldiers were pulling out of their posts and disappearing, presumably returning to their homes in hopes the Vietminh would forgive and forget.

Sees No Korean Unity

Rhee Makes Statement After Opening Talk With Ike, Declines To Give Ike's Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said after a conference with President Eisenhower today that he sees "no possibility of unifying Korea by a peaceful means."

Rhee made the statement to newsmen after the opening of talks with Eisenhower and other American officials on military and economic problems confronting partitioned Korea.

A reporter asked Rhee whether he and Eisenhower discussed the possibility of resuming the war in Korea. Without saying whether that subject was taken up, the South Korean leader replied:

"We see no possibility of unifying Korea by peaceful means," he said. "I think you all agree on that."

Rhee mentioned the recent Geneva conference on the Far East and the conference at Panmunjom which led to the Korean armistice, and asked:

"What have they accomplished? The only thing accomplished is to see the Communist cause grow stronger."

Asked whether Eisenhower agreed with him that there can be no peaceful unification of Korea, Rhee smiled and said:

"I don't think I can answer that."

Rhee described his talk with Eisenhower as "very interesting."

He referred to it as "something like a family discussion," and added that neither he nor Eisenhower was trying "to fight for his own cause."

The outspoken 79-year-old South Korean President had set a blunt tone in an impromptu statement on his arrival yesterday for intensive talks running through Friday.

He thanked the American people for their aid but said there would be no unification war unless the Allies "only had a little more courage" in driving out the Communists.

He said the Reds were not pushed across the Yalu River because "some people had a little cold feet."

Eisenhower also gave an indication at his news conference last week of the frank nature the talks are expected to assume. He said then he knew of no one in this country who was advocating resumption of Korean hostilities.

Rhee and his wife were overnight guests at the White House. They were entertained by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower with a state dinner attended by 50 American diplomatic, congressional and military leaders and their wives.

Beyond his reference to unification, Rhee has been silent on specific proposals. Seoul reports have said he hopes for American equipment and supplies to help expand the present 20-division South Korean army by 15 to 20 divisions.

Rhee, responding to Vice President Nixon's airport greeting yesterday, thanked the American people "and your great President" for sending "your boys to Korea to fight for the common cause of democracy."

Since American forces arrived, he said, "the Communists have failed. They know they have failed and if we had only a little more courage we could have reached the Yalu. At least we would not have to worry about the unification of Korea." He continued:

"But some people had a little cold feet and we did not do what we already could do. This would have been the best thing for Korea, the United States, the United Nations and all free nations."

Crossroads Comment
... by G.H.S.

"Rotarians See Film On Coffee," reads a news headline. What the other Sedalia service club members want to know is, did the Rotarians drink the stuff?

—O—

Last Saturday night I was up in the attic looking through hundreds of old negatives of pictures I took 42 years ago. May was a picture of "Chick" May, Hammit May, Dick Fowler, Charlie Heynen and Frank "Grub" Armstrong, out on Pfeiffer's Monticue Ave. prairie, now covered with houses, where we kids used to play shiny golf. Armstrong posed with club over his shoulder.

One of those oddities of life occurred the very next morning after I had been looking at those pictures. Armstrong, now a DEMOCRATIC candidate for Judge of the Magistrate Court, called me to say that our newspaper had printed an advertisement in Sunday's issue, calling him a Republican. Frank was in a good humor about it, although his Democratic supporters were mad as hornets and had been calling him all day about it. They said he ought to sue us.

I cringe to think what Armstrong would have done with that shiny stick in the picture 42 years ago if I had called him a Republican then. Even in those days Frank was a solid Democrat and has remained so all these years.

Frank, in those shiny golf days, was what we kids called a "champion." If he runs true to form he'll be a "champion" in this political contest for judge of the Magistrate Court.

Ike Considers Tariff Hike Amid Pressure

Foreign Nations Wait For His Decision On Watchmaking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavy pressure to protect a key industry in the production of delicate wartime instruments bore down on President Eisenhower today as he considered whether to order his first major tariff increase—on imported watch movements.

The Tariff Commission has recommended a 50 per cent increase in tariff rates to protect the highly skilled domestic watchmaking trade.

Scores of other industries, interested in their own protection from lower-cost foreign imports, waited with interest. Lead and zinc producers also have a tariff increase bid pending on Eisenhower's desk.

Foreign governments were concerned whether the movement for free world trade—already jarred by Congress' inaction on Eisenhower's three-year plan of gradual tariff reduction—might receive another setback.

Although the U. S. watch industry is comparatively small, consumers have a stake too. Importers estimated the tariff boost, if approved in full, would increase the cost of an imported watch by $3.50 to $5.

Since he took office Eisenhower has turned down Tariff Commission proposals for higher duties on briar pipes, shears and scissors and groundfish fillets. He approved in part a recommendation for increasing the duty of alskis covered.

But the pressure for higher tariffs on Swiss watch movements has been built mainly on claims the domestic watchmaking craft is essential to national defense. The industry was the major wartime producer of precision instruments and timing devices.

A Senate Armed Services subcommittee, after hearing military officials testify to the "unique" skills of the watch and clock trade, reported on Saturday that the industry must be kept "alive and vital."

Domestic companies have complained that rising imports from Switzerland, where watchmakers are paid less, are damaging the market for American watchworks.

His death was the fourth of the year in Callaway County as a result of traffic accident.

Bryans Leave In The Morning For a Tour of 3 Continents

Christian Church Pastor and Wife Conduct Tour for TWA, Then He Goes to So. Africa To Produce a Movie on Missionary Work

The Rev. and Mrs. David M. Bryan, the first Christian Church here, will be leaving Sedalia early in the morning on the first leg of a journey which will take them to three continents. Tomorrow they will travel to New York and the next day they will fly to Paris.

Mrs. Bryan will be the tour hostess to a party of 17 people which her husband is conducting on a TWA tour through Europe, Egypt and the Holy Land. When Mrs. Bryan gets on an airplane in St. Louis tomorrow to fly to New York, then to Paris it will be her very first experience of such means of modern travel. She admits that she is very excited about the venture and about the prospects of visiting many of the interesting places she has been hearing about.

The group will leave Tel-Aviv, Israel, on Aug. 24 and travel to Athens, Greece, from which place both Athens and Corinth will be visited. From there the group will fly to Switzerland and begin the tour through Switzerland and Germany, finally flying from Frankfurt, Germany to London, England, the last stop before returning to New York early in September.

Mrs. Bryan will return to Sedalia with the tour party. However, Mr. Bryan will fly to Brussels, Belgium, where he will board a plane for the Belgian Congo in Equatorial Africa. He will be spending the month of September on assignment to produce a movie. Bryan will complete his tour of Africa in Kano, Nigeria, from which place he will return to Sedalia early in October.

Workers in the major steel, electric and automobile plants have obtained an increase of about 5 cents an hour this year, rubber company officials say. And this is what Goodyear and Goodrich have offered.

But this is not satisfactory to the rubber workers.

"We are doing our own bargaining," Union Vice President Joseph Childs told a reporter in Cincinnati. "We're not letting another industry do it for us."

From Goodrich, the union asked a 12-cent package. It wants to iron out what it calls inequities in pay among its nine plants scattered in eight states.

The hourly rate of pay averages $2.05, according to United Rubber Workers' Union statistics. But apparently there are sharp differences among the factories. These have not been publicized.

From Goodyear, the union asked 7 1/2 cents an hour, plus 5 1/4 cents to correct similar inequities.

The 23,000 Goodyear strikers are employed in Akron and St. Marys, Ohio; Los Angeles, Muncie, Ind.; New Bedford, Mass.; Toledo, Kas.; Jackson, Mich.; Windsor, Vt.; Gadsden, Ala.; and Lincoln, Neb. Their straight time earnings averaged $2.08 an hour.

Britain Signs Agreement, Quits Suez Canal Zone

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser and British War Minister Anthony Head tonight signed an agreement to evacuate British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

Details of the agreement were not immediately announced. But newsmen were called into the premier's office to witness the signing of the preliminary agreement, which is expected to lead to a formal treaty.

Nasser and Head met this morning for the second time in an atmosphere of friendly optimism.

Would Refuse Back Pay To Ex-UN Employees Who Wouldn't Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Rogers (D-Fla.) urged Congress today to go on record against paying back salary awards to 11 American employees of the United Nations who declined to testify before the Senate Internal Security Committee.

Rogers introduced in the House a resolution indirectly urging U.N. Ambassador Lodge to resist an attempt by the U.N. General Assembly to pay the employees.

The 11 were dismissed from U.N. employment but the International Court of Justice recently upheld an award of $179,420 for them.

Rogers told the House one-third of the amount awarded, if paid, would come from the pockets of American taxpayers since the U.S. pays one-third of the operating costs of the United Nations.

The inquiry got a boost from—but is not based upon—the recent 36-day hearings into McCarthy's row with Army officials.

In a 3,500-word statement defending himself and the Senate Investigations subcommittee of which he is chairman, McCarthy said:

"I do not believe that any of the allegations aimed at me or at our committee, calculated to prove that we are in effect demanding equal time in (the) White House, is grounded in reason."

McCarthy's critics have charged some of the senator's actions have infringed the functions of the executive department.

McCarthy continued:

"On the other hand, I do believe that Washington is crowded with men and women who look upon

Rubber Strike Is Continued At Goodyear

Workers Threaten Same Type of Action In Two Other Plants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CIO rubber workers, trying to stretch the nickel won by other industrial unions in 1954, continued their strike today against one major rubber producer and threatened strike action against two others.

Some 23,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. employees walked off their jobs 20 days ago demanding higher wages.

Another 15,000 to 18,000 from B. F. Goodrich Co. were scheduled to join them Monday night.

But union and company negotiators in Cincinnati agreed to continue working under present conditions while they tried to talk their way to an agreement.

A strike was scheduled last Tuesday against the United States Rubber Co. but was postponed on a similar day-to-day basis while negotiations continued in New York City.

Workers in the major steel, electric and automobile plants have obtained an increase of about 5 cents an hour this year, rubber company officials say. And this is what Goodyear and Goodrich have offered.

But this is not satisfactory to the rubber workers.

McCarthy Says He Uses 'Almost Ideal' Set of Rules for His Investigations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he uses "almost an ideal set of rules" to run his investigations, and he voiced "dismay" at the attitude of some of his Republican senatorial critics.

McCarthy's statements were in testimony prepared for a hearing before a Senate Rules subcommittee studying a variety of proposals for revision of the rules for Senate investigations. No action is foreseen this year.

The inquiry got a boost from—but is not based upon—the recent 36-day hearings into McCarthy's row with Army officials.

In a 3,500-word statement defending himself and the Senate Investigations subcommittee of which he is chairman, McCarthy said:

Group Gathers Drought Data For Inspectors

They Find Pastures, Corn Crop, Livestock Water In Grim Shape

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's Drought Emergency Committee reported today pastures, corn crop and livestock water are much worse off than they were a year ago and only a fraction of normal.

The committee compiled county by county figures on drought conditions at a meeting in Columbia yesterday. L. C. Carpenter state agricultural commissioner, took the reports to Kansas City today for a meeting with a special drought inspection team from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said Carpenter would give all the information available to Ross Rizley, assistant secretary of agriculture and Harvey Dahl of Agriculture Secretary Benson's Staff. They are investigating the governor's request that the entire state be designated a drought disaster area so emergency relief programs can be set up.

The State Drought Committee reiterated that the entire state should be made a disaster area on the basis of statewide figures showing pastures only 87.9 per cent of what they were a year ago and 36.14 per cent of normal.

The condition of the corn crop was estimated at 62.06 per cent of last year or 41.07 per cent of normal. Livestock water supplies were set at 85.22 per cent of last year, but there is no "normal" yardstick for water.

The committee said it realized that "some local areas are better than others but the continuing deterioration of crops throughout the state would indicate that the original recommendation (for a statewide disaster area) remain sound."

The committee renewed its request for a federal beef purchase program to support the price of drought distressed utility grade livestock.

It also recommended that any established farmer or stockman be permitted to buy government owned feed at $1.55 a bushel for corn and other feeds at comparable prices.

"This action is considered imperative," the committee said "due to the increased number of spring and fall pigs for which feed is not available at a price that will permit them to be fed out without heavy financial loss."

McClellan Vs. McMath In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P)—Sen. John L. McClellan, who two years ago participated in the defeat of Sid McMath for a third term as Arkansas governor, today meets the challenge of McMath for his own job.

McMath and another candidate, Paul Chambers, Arkansas' Democratic national committeeman, are attempting to oust McClellan from the Senate seat he has held for nearly 12 years. A fourth candidate, Leonard Ellis, did not campaign.

If no candidate gets a majority of the total vote cast in today's Democratic primary, the two top men will meet again in a second primary two weeks hence.

In Arkansas, Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

McClellan, senior Democrat on Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee and in that role familiar to television audiences during the recent McCarthy-Army hearings, campaigned mainly on his 12-year record and the prestige he said his seniority gave.

McMath attacked him as a "Democrat in name only," a Republican and an errand boy for "Texas oil millionaires" and "the power trust."

Chambers declared both his opponents represent special interests—McClellan "big business" and McMath, organized labor—and that only he could represent "all the people."

Besides McClellan, Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado in the 4th District is the only member of Arkansas' all-Democrat congressional delegation opposed for re-election.

Gov. Francis Cherry, who beat McMath two years ago with the active support of McClellan, also has three opponents for re-election: Orval Faubus of Huntsville, State Sen. Guy Jones of Conway and Gus McMillan of Sheridan.

Polls open at 8 a.m., CST, and close at 6:30 p.m.

Ike Loses Some Straw

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (P)—President Eisenhower lost some straw yesterday. A wagonload of it, being transported from his farm near here to a neighboring farm caught fire. Several bales were destroyed before firemen put out the blaze.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

Figures Show $1,236,736 Cost Of Making the Film 'Apache'

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (P)—The movie "Apache," made by the independent Harold Hecht-Burt Lancaster company, cost $1,236,736.21. Here's how the money was spent:

Story	$58,643.58
Supervision	7,933.32
Cast	141,628.03
Director, assistants	24,367.68
Camera crew	27,102.66
Set crew	24,038.96
Set construction	40,980.77
Set design	10,311.63
Set dressing	9,893.20
Special effects	8,643.20
Props	16,408.60
Livestock	23,409.71
Housing, meals	36,366.95
Transportation	65,432.26
Lighting	43,131.50
Wardrobe	23,239.09
Makeup, hairdress	16,357.86
Film and processing	85,100.34
Sound recording	14,501.87
Sound dubbing, etc.	12,957.80
Film editing	34,888.59
Music	24,188.31
Studio rental	7,200.00
Tests	1,938.75
Insurance, taxes	75,301.45
Overhead	39,530.78
Insurance loss	10,000.00
Publicity	350,000.00
Lancaster, as star, and Hecht, as producer, receive no salaries. Their take comes from the profits. An independent makes pictures much less expensively than a major studio because overhead is so much less. The overhead charged against "Apache" is less than 4 per cent of the total cost. Major studios, with so many more and greater continuing costs, charge from 25 to 50 per cent for overhead. The average is 40.

For the usual picture, cost of prints and distribution charges equal the negative cost, i.e., actual cost of filming. Thus "Apache" will have to gross nearly 2½ million before Hecht and Lancaster start getting their cut.

Webster Groves Will Allow Lawn Sprinkling

ST. LOUIS (P)—Suburban Webster Groves has eased a lawn sprinkling ban on a trial basis because of an improved water supply.

The 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. ban was shortened one hour yesterday. It now ends at 9 p. m.

Also put into effect was a new policy of permitting home owners with even-numbered addresses to sprinkle their lawns on even-numbered days until noon and those with odd-numbered addresses on odd-numbered days until the same time.

The ban was put into effect last month when the water shortage brought a declaration of emergency. Last week the city's water distribution system was linked with the St. Louis system, enabling it to increase its capacity by 750,000 gallons daily.

First U. S. Woman Diplomat, Mrs. Ruth Rohde, Is Dead

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (P)—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rohde, America's first woman diplomat, died yesterday after a heart attack. She was 68.

Mrs. Rohde, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan and a U. S. Congresswoman, served as U. S. minister to Denmark from 1933 to 1936.

She returned to Copenhagen early this month to thank King Frederik for the Medal of Merit which he bestowed upon her earlier this year. Stricken with heart trouble, she was admitted to a hospital last week. Doctors said death was due to coronary thrombosis.

Mrs. Rohde's appointment as a U. S. envoy by President Roosevelt capped a distinguished career as a member of Congress, lecturer, author, war nurse and university teacher. The appointment also marked a milestone in the emergence of women into diplomacy. Only one other woman in the world previously had been a ranking envoy—Alexandra Kollontay, named Soviet Minister to Norway in 1923.

Mrs. Rohde was born in Jacksonville, Ill., in 1865. Her father, renowned orator and three times diplomatic party candidate contender for president, moved his family to Lincoln, Neb., when she was a child. She went to public schools there and later attended a girls school at Godfrey, Ill., and the University of Nebraska.

Mrs. Rohde married three times and was the mother of four children. Her first marriage, to an artist, William Homer Leavitt, ended in divorce in 1909. The following year she married Reginald Owen, a major in the British Army's Royal Engineers. Following him to Egypt during World War I, she served as a voluntary nurse.

Maj. Owen became ill during the war and remained an invalid for years. To support him and her family, Mrs. Rohde put her family talents to use and became a lecturer. She enjoyed great success as a public speaker.

She taught public speaking at the University of Miami from 1926-28, when she ran successfully for a Florida seat in the U. S. Congress. She served in the House from 1929 to 1933.

Her defeat in 1932 was followed shortly by her appointment as minister to Denmark.

She resigned in 1936 after marrying Capt. Borge Rohde, of the late King Christian X Palace Guard. The couple returned to America, where Mrs. Rohde resumed her career of writing and lecturing.

Prisoner Escapes From Dentist's Chair But Is Recaptured

ST. LOUIS (P)—A St. Louis County prisoner was recaptured yesterday shortly after he escaped from the dentist's chair at St. Louis County Hospital.

Raymond D. Roz, 25, of Milwaukee, awaiting trial for robbery was one of three prisoners taken to the County Health Center for treatment. He jumped from the chair after a pain killing drug had been administered for a tooth extraction.

Droz kicked a screen from a ground floor window and ran toward a railroad embankment with officers in pursuit. Five shots were fired at him.

Surveys at work nearby pointed out to officers the spot where he was hiding and Droz was taken back to jail with the tooth still intact.

Moulder Has Bill For Drought Relief

WASHINGTON (P)—Rep. Moulder (D-Mo.) yesterday introduced a bill that would authorize a billion dollar appropriation for drought relief.

The President would be authorized to use the money to buy beef and cattle, buy surplus feed for drought areas, and provide 30-year loans for drilling wells.

Farmers would get at least 10 cents a pound for utility grade cattle, and the beef would go to schools, hospitals and armed forces.

Hartman Given New Trial After A Year In Pen

ST. LOUIS (P)—Milton D. Hartman, St. Louis County sportsman who had served more than a year of a prison term for income tax evasion, yesterday was granted a new trial by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Hartman was sentenced to six years in prison and fined $20,000 in December, 1932. He has been in the federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., since Dec. 12, 1932.

The appeals court ruled that erroneous instructions were given the federal court jury by U. S. District Judge George H. Moore and that some defense objections overruled by the judge should have been upheld.

Hartman was a former president of the defunct Hartman Corp. of America.

If the government does not seek a rehearing of the case within 20 days, Hartman will be released from prison and returned here to post bail pending a new trial. If a rehearing is sought, he must remain in prison until the matter is determined.

If the second trial leads to a conviction, the time Hartman has spent in prison will count toward any sentence he might receive.

Hartman was convicted of failure to pay $19,671 in federal income taxes in 1945-46. He said he relied on bookkeepers and accountants to keep records and make out his tax returns, and did not examine them himself.

Jet Transport Plane Reaches 550 M.P.H.

SEATTLE (P)—Speeds of 550 miles per hour, four fifths the speed of sound, have been attained by America's first jet transport-tanker, the Boeing firm announced.

The company said testing of the big four-jet plane, the 707, is progressing "extremely well" and ahead of schedule.

The 15-million-dollar plane climbed to 42,000 feet and reached a maximum speed of 550 miles per hour on its third flight, July 19.

House Committee Cuts Chance for Admitting Hawaii and Alaska

WASHINGTON (P)—Any lingering possibility that Congress would vote at the current session to take Hawaii and Alaska into the Union as states was wiped out late yesterday.

The House Rules Committee, by voice vote, decided against sending separate House and Senate bills to conference to iron out differences.

The House had voted statehood for Hawaii, as the Eisenhower administration asked. The Senate voted to give statehood to both Hawaii and Alaska.

Pup Is Freed After Three Days In Sewer

ST. LOUIS (P)—A beagle pup, suffering only from hunger, was freed from a storm sewer in suburban Overland yesterday after spending about three days trapped there.

The pup apparently got trapped when he chased a rabbit or some other small animal into the open end of the sewer behind the home of Mrs. Lillian E. Trump.

She heard the dog whine Saturday but couldn't locate it. Her daughter heard the whines again yesterday, whistled and spotted the dog's head through a grating closing the opposite end of the sewer, which was too small to permit the dog to back up.

Two Animal Protective Assn. agents freed the dog by prying off sections of the grating.

Bachelors More 'Sot' In Ways Than Old Maids, With Cats

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (P)—Random reflections by a pavement Plato:

Old bachelors are usually more fussy and set in their ways than old maids—probably because they don't keep cats.

Nobody I know ever made a life-long friend at a cocktail party.

Did you ever meet a life insurance salesman who didn't carry a pocket calendar in his wallet?

Anybody who doesn't appreciate what he has now will never be made happy by what he gets later.

Nine out of 10 men brag they are hard-headed can be put down as intolerant bores.

The ordinary cop has to get in a gun battle to get his picture in the papers. But he performs more little unnoticed acts of real philanthropy in a week than the average millionaire does in a year.

U. S. Bulletins

About Business Available Here

The United States Department of Commerce, Chambers of Commerce and other organizations of business now cooperating to bring the services of the U. S. Department of Commerce to the communities, are associated in the cooperative offices to encourage the business community to use to its advantage the vast storehouse of information available from the federal government.

Publications of the U. S. department of commerce are at the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce office where they may be borrowed or purchased as desired. These publications are an aid for those seeking to establish a new business, looking for a new product to manufacture, seeking to expand markets for their line of product, to establish area sales quotas, to locate foreign outlets for foreign suppliers, to provide technical information on a manufacturing process, for a license to use a government-owned invention; details on government regulations affecting their business; or want guidance in obtaining any information or service of government that will help them in their business.

There is no charge for this service.

Management "know-how" is the key to success in about four million business concerns in America and because of inexperience and inability to employ trained specialists in many instances, the owners of small firms must make management decisions and take action on the basis of scattered information available to them. That is why this joint program of government and business is valuable. It is a service to help people in business.

Senator Smith Gets 'Whistled-at' In Senate

WASHINGTON (P)—A gallery spectator whistled at a senator last night. He got away with it, although Senate rules forbid audible demonstrations.

The senator was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.), who showed up in an evening gown, with a scarf draped about her neck. The whistler, a spectator in the gallery, was neither identified nor ejected.

Mrs. Smith was one of four senators who showed up in evening clothes at last night's session. All had been guests at a White House dinner for South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

Boy Pops Bear In Nose, Retrieves His Hand

CHICAGO (P)—Nine-year-old Leonard Radermacher has a scratched hand to prove to his playmates that he took on a grizzly bear yesterday and won.

Leonard describes how he got away:

Toothache Doesn't Quiet Senator Morse

WASHINGTON (P)—A bad tooth didn't stop Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) from lasting out the night for his third long-distance speech against the administration's atomic energy bill.

"I speak with a lot of codeine in me and a nice ulcerated tooth," he said early today.

"I have enough codeine pills to quiet colic in a horse."

His doctor hadn't thought much of the idea of another lengthy speech, Morse said. But the senator explained he'd "probably feel a little better from the nerve stimulus of speech" than hugging a hot water bottle to his cheek. "I may lose a tooth nerve, but I'm not going to lose my nerve in this fight," Morse said.

Will Charge Two Captives With Murder

BLOOMFIELD, Iowa — Davis County Attorney Charles Pettit said today he would file a first degree murder charge against two men captured in an eastern Illinois soybean patch by a posse seeking the holdup killer of an Iowa farmer.

Conviction of first degree murder in Iowa carries a penalty of death by hanging or mandatory life term.

Pettit said that although William G. Karston, 29, of Hamilton and Quincy, Ill., had signed a statement that he fired the shots which killed Wendell W. Jones, 56, of Pula, Iowa, the first degree charge also would be filed against Karston's half-brother, Almer Anderson, 22, South St. Paul, Minn.

"Both are equally subject to the maximum charge under Iowa law," Pettit said.

The two men were returned here during the night from Carthage, Ill. They had been found huddled in a clump of weeds along the Mississippi River near Meyer, Ill., yesterday after a three-state manhunt.

Both waived extradition. Pettit said Anderson had signed a statement admitting his part in a crime spree which led to the fatal shooting in the Jones farm home 17 miles southeast of Bloomfield.

Karston told officers he did not intend to kill Jones.

"I feel bad about the old man," Karston said. "He grabbed my gun. I had my finger on the trigger. After we fled I prayed he wouldn't die."

The pair went to the Jones farm Sheriff Jim Yates of Bloomfield said, after they wrecked their car while fleeing after two Saturday night service station holdups in St. Louis, 20 miles north of Bloomfield.

Presses for Ban On Segregation In Train Travel

WASHINGTON — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today pressed at public hearings its request that the Interstate Commerce Commission rule out all racial segregation in interstate train travel.

The case follows up the Supreme Court's recent outlawing of such segregation in the nation's public school system. It hinges on the contention that the old theory of "equal but separate" accommodations is now legally out of date.

The proceeding against train segregation in general is also a sequel to the 1950 ruling of the high court that racial distinctions among passengers in railroad dining cars had to go.

The court in the dining car case cited a provision of the interstate commerce act that no interstate carriers be subjected to "any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage whatsoever."

The new NAACP proceeding was brought against a dozen major railroads operating in the South.

Police Judge Convicts 'Hot Rod' Moore, 22, For 24th Violation

ST. LOUIS — Robert H. (Hot Rod) Moore last night was convicted of a traffic law violation for the 24th time since 1948.

Police Judge Edward T. Wright of suburban Brentwood, in convicting the 22-year-old Moore of speeding, asked that Moore's parents appear before him Thursday and deferred sentencing.

The judge said he felt no one would criticize him if he imposed the maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine, but that his policy in "juvenile cases" had been to encourage parents to come to court.

The judge added he wants to see "if there's anything the Brentwood police court can do to straighten this boy out."

Neither of the parents was in court last night. The father is a physician.

Town Has Fire Truck But No Volunteers

BRANFORD, Fla. — This little town of 600 had a fire truck today but no firemen.

Last night the volunteer department—about 20 strong—had a charity baseball game with the Woodmen of the World and took the truck through town, blowing the siren, to advertise the affair.

Mayor Frank Norris told Fire Chief Witt Stanley to take the truck back to the station and not to use it again unless there was a fire.

After the game the volunteers took the truck back—and resigned in a body.

This portion of the work has been completed nearly six weeks ahead of schedule. Two outdoor telephone booths have been provided for emergency service in the addition during the period when individual service could not be furnished.

The continued huge expansion in the Sedalia area has produced considerable growth in the need for additional telephone facilities. Since the first of this year over 225 telephones have been added in Sedalia alone.

Man Says He Saw McKee Kicking Object On Night Wife Died

Kueker said he witnessed the kicking incident from his second floor porch.

Two Former Democrat Employees Meet, Talk As Cars Roll Along on Washington Highway

It was on a four lane highway near Washington, D. C., that a young Sedalia couple, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin White, was riding along when suddenly a car back of them came up along side and a young woman, who had seen the Sedalia, Mo., tag on the back of their car, yelled: "I'm from Sedalia."

It was really a delight to hear that. The young couple in the first car live at Alexandria, Va., while he is in the service, and just anybody from Sedalia looks good to them. But as the conversation went on, as the cars also went on down the highway together, the common bond between the two girls deepened.

"I used to work at the Democrat," said the young woman in the second car, and the young woman in the first car nearly tumbled out of the car.

"Why I worked at the Democrat, too," said the surprised girl. They compared notes as best they could while riding along and then a car from behind spoiled their fun. It wanted to pass so the second car had to go on its way.

The young woman in the second car was Mrs. Margaret Kyd

State Has Spent $99,209,604 On Highways

JEFFERSON CITY — In the first two years of Missouri's $557 million, 10-year highway improvement program, the State Highway Commission has spent or obligated $99,209,604.

Reporting the figures today, the commission said that represents improvements on 4,744 miles of state highways. Moving into the third year of the work, the commission has called for bids today on an estimated $6,150,000 worth of work to cover another 140 miles—the biggest bid call in years.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, the commission spent or committed $43,856,060 extending over 2,495 miles of roads.

That included $28,330,173 for improving 418 miles of the major highway system and $10,660,477 for work on 1,171 miles of the supplementary system.

Another $4,200,841 went for other phases of the 10-year program, much of it for rights of way, and $800,000 of it as the state's annual share of the cost of the new Paseo bridge at Kansas City.

The state also took over 1,797 miles of local roads last year and spent $664,369 bringing 906 miles of them up to all-weather standards.

Guatemala Has New Land Reform Law from Military

GUATEMALA — Guatemala's military government has decreed a new land reform law. The junta said it will continue to split large land holdings among peasants, but will directly control the process.

The government of Col. Carlos Castillo Armas announced last night that the new measure will open the way for reform of the agrarian law instituted under the regime of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

The decree called a halt to further land expropriations until the new law is promulgated. It also said that workers who took over lands during the revolt against Arbenz must return them after harvesting the present crop.

The U. S. -owned United Fruit Co. says the Arbenz government has seized 224,000 acres of its banana plantations for distribution to small farmers. U. S. government demands that the company be compensated fairly for this action since the land was taken over. The government offered to pay for the lands with its own agrarian bonds, but the company considered the rate too low and declined to accept. The new government has not indicated whether the claims would be settled in cash.

Mrs. Gold Ilgenfritz Has Sold Famed Stallion, Easter Knight

Easter Night, famous horse owned by Mrs. Gold Ilgenfritz of Sedalia, the national grand champion stallion of 1953 and winner of many fine trophies and awards, has been sold by Mrs. Ilgenfritz to the Valley View Farms of Barrington, Ill., for an undisclosed amount, said to be the highest price ever received in this area.

After a very successful career in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and adjoining states, Easter Night, who was purchased by Mrs. Ilgenfritz in late 1950 from Scott Higgins of LaMonte, and was trained by him from a little colt, went on to win many trophies wherever he was shown in the middle west, and was a leading contender for the very beginning.

The beautiful chestnut stallion has won many honors during the past five years, plus well over 150 blue ribbons. During the 1953 season, he placed first in 15 shows and received an outstanding honor and national recognition in winning both the national stallion stake and the grand national five-gaited stallion championship stake at Waterloo, Ia., over competition from the top horses of the nation.

These particular winnings meant a great deal to Easter Night, who in 1951 (the show was not held in 1952) Easter Night placed reserve in these two stallion classes.

Among his many winnings, Easter Night has accounted for three firsts and a Missouri and Kansas championship stake at the American Royal in 1952, the stallion event at the Missouri State Fair, and other similar awards in his division.

In recognition of his many accomplishments, Easter Night is currently featured in the 1954 issue of "Who's Who in the Horse World," where he is joined by the leading horses of the nation, in becoming a famous celebrity and proud member of the Horse World's Hall of Fame.

In going to the Valley View Farms, Easter Night has the chance to further his career among the very best and outstanding competition in the country. The Valley View Farms is owned by J. L. Young, husband and manager of Tom Moore, two of the outstanding horsemen in the country. The stables are located on a large beautiful estate near Chicago, and are considered one of the most modern in the country, with air conditioned and heated barns staffed by experienced and trained personnel.

In his new home, Easter Night will enjoy living in such luxury as a special horse shower room and traveling around the country in air conditioned vans. He will live in a dynasty of show horses, created by the great sire, Genius Bourbon King, which include Mr. America, grand champion two-year-old, Miss America, grand champion three-year-old, Mrs. America and The Rambler, all outstanding five gaited and fine harness horses.

Realizing the opportunity that Easter Night would gain in making this move, and her love for the horse, has prompted Mrs. Ilgenfritz to sell him to the Valley View Farms. In doing this, it will place Easter Night in a position and enable him to reach the very peak in the horse world. Mrs. Ilgenfritz pays special tribute to Scott Higgins and gives him all the credit he deserves for the management, training and handling Easter Night in bringing him up to this point.

Mrs. Ilgenfritz is also the owner and exhibitor of such luminaries as Breath of Heaven, a fine harness mare, Stonewall Peacock and Fancy Captain. One of Easter Night's offsprings is Nights Charm, which for the last two years has won the junior championship stake at Springfield.

"Mrs. Ilgenfritz, auburn haired and vivacious, could be called one of the charming amateurs of today. Her love for horses is good to see, a quality that is evident when she shows herself or watches her horses being shown by her capable trainer. She is a fine sportswoman and enjoys a host of friends in the horse world, and is highly responsible for the development and interest in fine horses created by local Sedalians and the surrounding communities," writes a correspondent of a horse journal.

Good Reports Of 2 Newest Cancer Cures

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Two highly encouraging new successes in the treatment of some kinds of human cancer were reported today at the sixth International Cancer Congress.

One is a surgery-plus-X-ray treatment of cancer of the breast, the most common form of the disease among women. The technique is saving about half the patients who get treatment reasonably early, the congress was told.

The second is a new drug giving—at least temporarily—normal life to a number of sufferers from several forms of cancer.

The surgery-plus-X-ray method was described by Dr. Robert McWhirter, radiologist and surgeon of the Royal Infirmary at Edinburgh, Scotland.

This method, used since 1941, surgically removes only the infected breast but avoids cutting out a part of the chest wall, amputation to remove lymph nodes to which the cancer probably already has spread.

Those affected areas are treated by X-rays daily for three weeks, beginning 10 days after the surgery. This method thus avoids severe mutilation of the body and some complications from surgery or X-rays.

McWhirter said 60 per cent of the women treated by the conservative combined method had survived for at least five years. A five-year survival is usually regarded as evidence of a cancer cure. He said 48 per cent had survived 10 years. All were women whose breast cancers were regarded at the time as suitable for operation.

Even on cases considered unsuitable for help by extensive surgery, McWhirter said 32 per cent were alive five years after the combined treatment and 16 per cent were living normal active after 10 years.

Encouraging success through use of the new drug thiotepa was described by Dr. Jeanne Bateman of George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

She said a high percentage of patients with cancers of the ovaries, breasts and the worst form of brain cancer had achieved good results, enabling them to return to months of useful, active life so far. The drug often produces temporarily good results in other forms of cancer, she added.

Describing results with the first 94 patients tested, Dr. Bateman said the drug works best if injected directly into the cancer. The drug even then manages to go to work on cancers in distant parts of the body begun by cells wandering from the original site.

The drug is not a cure, Dr. Bateman cautioned, but it has succeeded in keeping some patients on their feet and useful until nearly the end of their lives.

Farmers Sue Because Jets Disturb Cows

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The United States was sued for $350,000 damages yesterday by a group of farmers who claim cows won't produce near the end of a jet base runway.

Because of the nearness of Luke Air Force Base and its jet planes, the farmers protested:

Dairy cows give less milk and the butterfat content is reduced. Beef cattle don't eat properly and it takes one third longer now to fatten them for market.

The farm houses are unsafe and noisy.

Farm workers' efficiency is cut by 25 per cent, and they live and work "in fear of death."

Phone Workers Again Discuss New Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the CIO Communication Workers of America continue negotiations today on 65 union demands for a new contract.

Principal demands are wage increases and reclassification of certain jobs but the union has yet not specified how much of an increase it is seeking.

The existing contract, which expires Aug. 30, continues in effect past the deadline unless either party serves 30-day notice of an intent to discontinue the contract.

The union represents most of the 33,000 employees covered by the contract. The firm serves Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas and part of Illinois near St. Louis.

ExBanker Faces Trial For Embezzlement

CLAYTON, Ala. (AP) — Ex-banker Royall Reynolds, whose disappearance last March brought sleepy Clio, Ala., awake with a start, goes on trial today on embezzlement charges.

Reynolds' disappearance tied up funds in the now-defunct unchartered Merchant's Money Exchange at the critical spring planting period. He returned two years later. An audit showed a $75,000 deficit in the bank's funds.

A citizens' committee agreed to accept a settlement under which depositors would get back all except about 10 to 15 per cent of their money. Reynolds liquidated all his personal holdings and his relatives chipped in to make up all except about $9,000 of the deficit.

Sedalia Audience Explains Americans to the French

The people of Sedalia didn't say a word, but they helped to explain the Americans to the French. It all began on Feb. 2, when hundreds of Sedalia citizens turned out for a concert by pianist James Wolfe. When the concert was over they went home. But James Wolfe went to France where he told amazed audiences in 30 French cities how the Americans in Missouri reacted to good music.

James Wolfe's musical career has been deeply influenced by two people, both of them non-musical and one a man he never met. The first is his grandmother, who thinks any public performance but preaching "making a fool of yourself." The other is the late Wendell Wilkie whose plea to Americans to build a reservoir of good will in foreign countries started Wolfe on his unusual pianist-diplomat career.

When Wolfe told his grandmother that the National Music League had chosen him to make a concert tour of French towns, her only comment was that he could now make a fool of himself in two countries.

"I began to think she might be partly right. Important as music is, perhaps it isn't enough in this troubled world. So I decided to preach a little, too, even if it had to be mostly by practice. My few drops of good will didn't fill the reservoir but perhaps they added to it just a little."

Wolfe's preach and practice campaign began with himself. "I tried to act as though the whole French nation was my hostess who had invited me to dinner. When you think of yourself as a guest in someone's home it's easy to avoid doing the things that so dismay and distress the French about Americans."

An old custom in the small French cities and towns where he played gave Wolfe a chance to meet thousands of people. Following the concert, the entire audience comes backstage to greet the artist and talk with him. When the hand-shaking was over, Wolfe would steer the talk around to small-town Americans and how like his French hosts they are.

"Actually it wasn't hard to get the subject going. Most of these people never met an American before except for a few soldiers. Their curiosity about every phase of American life and living was wonderful to see . . . and often hard to satisfy. For instance, no matter what I said, they never would believe that grown up Americans actually do drink milk . . . They always asked . . . but they never believed my answer."

Hardest answer for the French audience to swallow was that there are enough people in America who will sit still for Bach and Beethoven to fill a concert hall.

"Isn't it true that only the jazz hot means anything to Americans? Don't Americans just stay home and watch crime plays on television? Would they actually go out to hear an artist play serious music? These were the questions I was always asked," Wolfe notes.

"To give them real proof that Americans are neither barbarians nor bebop addicts I always talked about the Sedalia audience, probably because it struck me as being so typically American. And when I told my backstage inquisitors in Toulouse that my Missouri hearers enjoyed and applauded such music as Schumann's 'Abegg Variations' and Hindemith's 'Sonata No. 2,' they were both surprised and very much pleased. From their reaction I know they thought an American audience couldn't and wouldn't sit through anything more subtle than the Nutcracker Suite or a Strauss waltz."

Wolfe's program of being the perfect guest backfired just once. "My hostess at dinner one evening apologized for the lack of a maid, explaining that hers had been called away suddenly. When we finished our excellent meal, I stood up to help her clear the table and volunteer to wash the dishes. In a small town in France today there is a woman who is still in a state of shock—and a husband who hates Americans who put crazy ideas into women's heads," Wolfe recalls.

Wolfe's French tour was sponsored by the National Music League and the Jeunesses Musicales Francaise, who exchange young artists annually. "We talk a lot and read a lot in the papers about the need for international understanding. Statesmen hold conferences and pass resolutions calling for everyone to get along peacefully. I think that the ordinary people of the countries of the world could do more for peace than all the statesmen if they would just keep adding, drop by drop, to the reservoir of good will," Wolfe declares.

Several companies of the ancient Egyptians armies had their own standards such as animals, boats, fans or other emblems raised on a staff.

The man was Police Inspector William G. Martin and he showed his badge.

Family Phones Donald W. Carl Over In England

Over in England, Pte. Donald W. Carl was having a birthday and about the only birthday present he would have really liked to have had was to be at home.

If it had been possible that would have been the present his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carl, 508 West Third, would have given him, too, but when a fellow is in service he is wherever he is stationed, birthday or no birthday, so dad and mother did the next best thing. They called him by telephone and talked to him.

The weather, he said, was cold and rainy and he would take Missouri weather any time. When they told him how hot it had been here he still would rather have Missouri weather—even the weather couldn't be too bad as long as it was home.

Everybody took turns talking to him, his mother, his day, his sister, Mrs. Joe Walter and her husband. That was Sunday morning, and Donald, who is stationed at Cheyenne Air Force Base, North Hamptonshire, England, had a really happy birthday after all.

Donald has been in the service nearly a year and in England since January.

Adlai's Son Says His Father Doesn't Want To Be President

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—John Fell Stevenson, the son of Adlai Stevenson, says his father "doesn't want to be president."

Young Stevenson, here with his father on an Alaskan vacation, yesterday was asked what his father would do if he became president.

"He doesn't want to be president," the son of the Democrats' unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1952 replied. And then he added quickly:

"He isn't campaigning. He is just helping the party pay off the deficit from the last campaign."

Two Brothers End Up With Only One Suit, Half Haircut Each

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Cedar Lake, Ind., brothers came to Chicago yesterday to buy new suits and haircuts for their sister's wedding, but they ended up with half a haircut each and only one suit—dirty.

Lawrence Mitchell, 23, and his brother James, 17, told police they had purchased new suits and were getting haircuts when they spotted thieves taking their new suits out of their automobile parked in front of the barbershop.

The brothers chased the thieves. One of the thieves dropped Lawrence's suit down an elevator shaft and the other robber got away. Lawrence recovered the suit but it was dirty and he said he wouldn't have time to get it cleaned before the wedding of his sister Mary today.

Blind Man Purchases Motorcycle, First Ride Brings Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ronald Carlos Taylor, 25, always wanted a motorcycle.

He had an opportunity to buy one from a friend last week, one that could do 100 miles an hour. The fact he has been drawing the full state pension for the last eight years didn't deter him. He bought it.

He rode several interesting blocks before he made a left turn and ran into Miss Barbara Murphy, 25-year-old pedestrian.

Yesterday, Municipal Judge Charles Peery gave Taylor a 30-day suspended sentence for driving without a license, 30 days suspended for violating a pedestrian's right of way, and six months on probation.

Taylor sold the motorcycle.

Whither S. Korea Without Rhee?

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—One of the four octogenarians on whom the United States is leaning in vital parts of the world is now in Washington receiving the deserved tribute of President Eisenhower.

He is Dr. Syngman Rhee, cantankerous, crusading president of South Korea, without whose stubborn patriotism Korea would not be half alive today; yet whose stubbornness today may either upset the precarious peace of the Far East or prevent the orderly reconstruction of his country.

Dr. Rhee is now 79 years old. And like another old man, Chancellor Adenauer, on whom we are relying in another vital area, he cannot last forever. And because Chiang Kai-Shek also is reaching the twilight of his years with no one groomed to succeed him; and because 79-year-old Winston Churchill, our best champion in England, is certain to step down soon, realist diplomats are wondering whom the United States intends to lean on after these octogenarians are gone. Are we grooming no young men for the future?

At best, Dr. Rhee can carry on only two or three years longer. In Germany, Konrad Adenauer can remain chancellor only a short time. Yet our whole policy in Germany is aimed at arming a government which three years from now may put all the arms we give it in the hands of the anti-American forces almost certain to succeed the aged patriot of West Germany. In Formosa, with no one trained to succeed the aging champion of Nationalist China, how can we buck Red China's entry into the United Nations after Chiang is gone?

Unfortunately the dominating dispositions of elder statesmen are such that it's difficult to train successors. In Korea, Dr. Rhee has fired 200 cabinet ministers. For he is the whole show. He is South Korea. Without him there would be no South Korea, and unless you please him you serve no one day longer in his cabinet.

His grit, his determination have made Korea what it is today. But his refusal to cooperate with others may tear down the very thing he has built.

For when Rhee leaves this earthly scene, as leave he must, the man likely to succeed him is Lee Bum Suk, a fascist-minded unrepentant who could embrace Communism with the same facility he embraces republicanism.

Such is our diplomacy of looking to the past, not the future. On such frail cornerstones is our policy, in an area drenched with American blood, based today.

Beaten By Bamboo

When you look back over the vista of Syngman Rhee's nearly eighty years you can understand why he is sometimes difficult to deal with. During those years he has been beaten with bamboo rods daily for seven months. He has had oil paper wrapped round his wrists and set on fire. He has had his fingers mashed so horribly that even today he blows on them to keep them warm. He has had to wear a 20-pound cage around his neck and sit with his feet and hands locked in stocks.

He has spent seven years in prison, 41 years in exile, has had a $300,000 Japanese price put on his head. He has been rebuffed. He has been disheartened. But he has never ceased fighting for the liberty of the barren little country which became the symbol of free world resistance against the Communist World.

And having staged that fight and suffered much punishment, you can understand why when he talks about resuming war against North Korea he really means it.

One Month War?

Though the American army has cut off his gasoline, Rhee has carefully hoarded gas, stored it in secret caches until he has enough to permit war for perhaps a month or more.

the well-trained South Korean army to resume And the patriot of Korea is just stubborn enough to precipitate such a war. After all, he was promised the unity of his country; and only on that condition did he agree to an armistice. He was promised a satisfactory peace at the Geneva conference. But that conference has come and gone with Korea hardly mentioned.

He was told by Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, the man who persuaded Rhee to accept a truce, that Korea would be united and that the real danger was not in Korea but that China would turn its attention to what she really wants—the vast riches of southeast Asia.

Rhee has now seen that prediction come true. He has seen China cut another line dividing a nation, a line of military expediency sure to become a line of political inexperience. Yet the line across Korea still remains.

Obviously Dr. Rhee, in Washington today, is justified in saying: "I told you so."

Graft in High Places

Worst tragedy in South Korea today is the failure of reconstruction. It has now been three years since there was fighting much below the 38th parallel. But in that time little has been done to rebuild a shattered nation. Money has been spent—large amounts of money—but there is little to show for it.

Part of it has evaporated in graft; for no contractor or importer can do business in Korea without greasing the palms of people in high places.

But part of the trouble is bickering over reconstruction Rhee wants a slick modern highway built the length and breadth to South Korea. American advisers have wanted rebuilt homes for the Korean people. American generals haven't relished the cooperation of UNKRA, the U.N. construction. Rhee wants a slick, modern high-group for Korean reconstruction. They want to kick the U.N. out, not realizing the tremendous political advantage of U.N. support.

But while South Korea stagnates, North Korea, unhampered by political bickering, booms. The Reds are to make it a model for Northern Asia. Meanwhile, what would happen to South Korea if the U. S. pulled the plug of American dollars next year or even in five years? Those are the problems faced by the state department in talking to Syngman Rhee this week.

Tidewater Virginia

Tidewater Virginia consists of four peninsulas, one being the Eastern Shore, which juts down from Maryland between the Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay and consists of Northampton and Accomack counties. The other three are formed by the Potomac, Rappahannock, York and James rivers.

FHA Boss Seeks New Rules To Erase Home Repair Abuse

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—The great Federal Housing Administration scandals uncovered last April have now been shaken down far enough to see what's going to come of them.

To date the heads of 10 FHA officials have rolled under what might be known as the three R treatment—resigned, retired and removed.

But no proof has been obtained of any collusion between a government housing official and a contractor or mortgage lender suspected of fraud.

So far, nobody in or out of government has gone to jail. Getting an indictment and pushing a fraud case through the courts is a lengthy business.

No refunds have been secured for tenants who were overcharged on their rentals nor home owners who were overcharged for repair work financed under government insured loans.

The special investigation of FHA by William F. McKenna, deputy Housing and Home Finance Agency administrator, is about half completed. The plan is to wind it up by Sept. 15 or before, so that the government housing outfits can get on with their business under the new housing legislation to which Congress has all but given finishing touches.

The Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee investigation under Chairman Homer E. Capehart of Indiana has concentrated on some of the worst cases of windfall profits reaped by the builders of multiple-unit housing developments.

This was done under the now dead section 608 of the housing law. It permitted builders to borrow under government insured loans far more than the building cost of their projects. The excess they divided as dividends.

Of the 7,000 loans insured under this program, 214 have been reviewed by the McKenna investigation. This 3 per cent of the total includes the obviously worst offenders.

The windfall profit of these cases amounts to over $40 million. This is the juicy bulk of the scandals. There will be other cases, but not so big. The government was not defrauded out of this money. It was the tenants who had to pay $40 million more in rentals who got bilked.

On the so-called Title One home modernization and repair loans guaranteed by the government, 204 complaints have been received so far. This is infinitesimal in comparison with the three million loans, valued at $1.5 billion, now outstanding.

Of the 204 complaints, 87 have been referred to the FBI for further checking. Eighty-one have been handled by FHA administrative action, such as blacklisting the lenders. And 36 cases have been closed because no action was warranted.

There have been 56 indictments returned, involving 113 persons, and there will unquestionably be some convictions as these cases go through the courts. This is only the beginning. There may be hundreds more. But nearly all are small cases, involving under $1,000 apiece.

The great fear that exposure of these scandals by the Eisenhower administration would give the entire housing business a black eye has failed to materialize.

Furthermore, the investigation thus far has not apparently shot to pieces the morale of government housing agency employees. The hope is now that with the mess partially cleaned up, attention can be concentrated on better administration.

The immediate problem here for Housing and Home Finance Administrator Albert M. Cole is to put into effect regulations which will prevent repetition of the abuses under the Title One home repair program.

Government guarantees on loans for barbecue pits, tennis courts, swimming pools and such frills have already been banned.

It is recognized that regulations could be issued, so strict that they would dry up the home modernization business. That isn't desired. But license to defraud home owners under the guise of giving liberal profits to money lenders and contractors is to be stopped.

The main intent here is first to make the contractor build to specifications. The responsibility for securing compliance on this will be left to the lending institutions and to private business in general. Detailed government inspection will be kept out of it.

The government's main responsibility will be limited to curbing the banks and home loan institutions which day after day make loose loans that in the end add up to defrauding the home owner.

Government housing agencies recognize that they have a responsibility to the home owner. But the present administration does not want to get into this so deeply that it has an army of inspectors okaying every contract the borrower makes, to be sure he gets his money's worth.

Woos Winnie

On his ride from the Washington airport to the White House with British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, Secretary of State Dulles managed to get a little important business done.

That was the day the question of a vote on investigation of the Guatemalan situation was to come before the United Nations Security Council. There were six votes lined up to put the Guatemalan question on the UNSC agenda.

Secretary Dulles explained the American position to Sir Winston on that 15-minute auto ride. As a result, the British voted with the United States. France went along, too. That cut the vote for giving the question to the Security Council down to four, and there were two abstentions.

This decision probably had a major role in aiding the downfall of the Communist regime in Guatemala. It kept Soviet Russia out. It increased the prestige of the Organization of American States and it saved an important chapter of the UN charter for possible future use in similar emergencies.

The World Today—Atom Changes Far Reaching

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON.—Time has ridden like a hag on the back of the Eisenhower administration's efforts to make broad changes in the atomic law, first passed in 1946, covering the development and use of atomic energy.

The Republicans were trying to put these changes through in Congress just when they were also rushing to get finished with other major legislation so Congress in this election year could finish by July 31.

But the changes proposed were far-reaching. And the objections to them by a group of Democrats and some Republicans were so strong that they said in effect to the administration: "Whoa, not so fast." They were sore about the timing.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, was conscious of the time too. For months he had had his eyes set on that July 31 target date.

So he began driving the Senate to finish with the atomic bill and go on with the rest of the bills still awaiting Senate action. The Democrats, aided by Senators Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Ore), wouldn't be rushed.

Actually, work on the atomic changes began last year when the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, made up of Democrats and Republicans from House and Senate, began considering bringing the 1946 atomic law up to date.

In 1946 the United States alone had the secret of the bomb. Now more than 20 countries—including Russia, Britain and Canada—have worked in the atomic field. Russia with extraordinary success.

In 1946 no one knew how much progress might be made in developing atomic energy for peaceful purposes. So everything connected with this country's atomic work was cloaked in secrecy by the law of 1946.

But there has been progress, technologically, which could be pushed for making the atom do peaceful work. In providing power, for instance. And there have been changes in foreign relations.

The United States now, through President Eisenhower, has proposed a world pooling of non-military atomic information for peaceful purposes. And there is the problem of sharing some atomic mili-

XXII
I DID wrestle Lopez the next week and pinned him with a figure-four scissors and a half-nelson. He wasn't sore, though, once we got out of the ring, but he put up a terrific objection from the mat, practically telling everybody only one shoulder had been touching, if any, and that not for any count whatever. You never heard such booing, and when I took the applaus from the crowd there wasn't even a single razzberry in my direction.

Milo, Dawn O'Day, and Benny Leftoe were there, but not even sitting in ringside seats, which shows how nearly the joint was sold out. Maybe, like the papers said, 2000 people were turned away. Anyway, Benny was sitting on one side of Dawn and Milo on the other, which showed like nothing else could have done how I had patched up all between them.

When I got back to the dressing room, only Pancho was there, and as we were the final match, we had the place to ourselves. While he was taking off those green trunks of his, he said, "Look, kid, I hope you don't care if I give you a little advice. Don't think that it is because you hung that scissors on me, as I have had many a scissors hung on me before and one fall ain't a winter. We have a good combination here, and the next time Benny puts us on together the customers will be back to see if I can make a comeback."

By now I had grown used to Pancho and from the soft way he was speaking, I knew he wasn't sore. While I started to take a shower, he went on talking. "You have a chance to make more dough than you ever made in your life before."

Right away I felt disappointed in him, thinking he wanted to bribe me so he'd win the next time we met. I said, "When I began to wrestle I made up my mind to be strictly on the up and up and never throw a bout." He laughed, showing all his gold teeth. "You must have been a college football player or something before you took up grunting and groaning. In this racket, throwing bouts is practically unheard of. I'll tell you why."

He took my place in the shower and blew out the water so he sounded like a sea lion or something. By the time he was done, I was practically dressed. He said, "Rest yourself on the corner of the table there, while I do some explaining. The trouble is that you are like a lot of wrestlers and like all the customers. They think that wrestling should be like boxing, which it ain't. Take a boxer. How many times a week can he go 10 rounds in competition? The answer is once, maybe, and he can't do that if he gets a shellacking. In a year he can take about 20 bouts, and with luck he's good for 10 years. Then he's washed up. Newspapers call a fellow over 30 a scarred veteran."

Everybody knows that boxers are sometimes puny after their first hundred fights, but I didn't see personally what it had to do with me. Lopez went on:

"Now take a wrestler. Me, for instance. I have been wrestling more years than you are old. I got a son pushing 30 and three grandchildren. Next time I see you I'll show you their pictures. How many times a week do you think I wrestle? Once a week here with Benny, where I'm a villain. Alternate Tuesdays I'm Chief Choctaw at a club in Norfolk, where the minute I approach the ring, everybody stands up and cheers, as there I'm a hero. It's a smaller place than Benny runs here, but I get a hundred a bout. Besides, I wrestle once in a while in Camden, under my own name, which is Frank Loman, and get better dough than here, even. I can wrestle five or six nights a week and throw in a couple matinees without even feeling it. Now, does that add up to something to you?"

I guessed that it did. "To stay in business a promoter needs to keep the crowd coming, which he does by putting guys on his card who have a following, and to have a following, a wrestler must be liked so people come to see him win, like they do me in Norfolk, or he must be hated enough so they want to see him lose, like they do here with me."

"YOU'RE a natural to have people like you, but fans are funny people—like all people. Most men in their hearts don't like a good-looking guy with straight features and curly hair who is five-ten-and-three-quarters and tips the scale at 194 pounds, besides giving with the muscle. They would like to see his nose broken or his face scarred or a fresh blue cauliflower hung on his ear. They want to anticipate all that during a match, which is why they come. Now when you clamped that scissors on me in seven minutes and 10 seconds, they went out of here feeling cheated."

"There's one other thing: If a fighter gives another fighter a real shellacking, chances are he'll do the same every time they meet. The fact that you and me tonight demonstrated only that you're a pretty good wrestler. If we'd wrestle at Harrisburg, I might throw you. I know guys I've thrown 50 times and they've thrown me as many. That's another reason fans say that wrestling's fixed—because they don't see why fellows can pin each other so often. It is not good for wrestling for them to think so, but it is an angle of this business you can't explain."

I hadn't thought about it that way before, so we made a gentlemen's agreement that if we were versus again, like it seemed likely, we would give a 20-minute exhibition before we went to work honest.

Friend of John Takes Own Life In Berlin Home

BERLIN.—An American counterintelligence agent, known to be a friend of missing West German security chief Otto John, has committed suicide in his Berlin quarters, it was learned today.

Fellow officers found the man, a naturalized American with the rank of captain in the Counterintelligence Corps, mortally wounded in his billet near the American Army hospital last Friday. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The Army has withheld announcement of his identity until the family is notified. Rumors that the agent was being questioned and that he was suspected of disloyalty were flatly denied by U.S. authorities today. A senior officer said a complete inquiry shows the man to be above suspicion.

Officers said the agent had known Dr. John, former chief of the West German Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution, for some time. The agent shot himself the day after John's disappearance in the Soviet sector was made public.

Sen. Ellender Is Favored To Win In La.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) was favored to win his fourth term in Louisiana's Democratic primary today amid predictions of a light vote because of expected rain and lack of interest in the three-man race.

The 63-year-old senior Louisiana senator faced Democratic National Committeeman Frank B. Ellis of New Orleans and State Rep. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe.

Louisiana Democrats, using voting machines in every precinct for the first time, also voted on eight representatives and several state and local officials. Three representatives were unopposed.

Most major state political leaders backed Ellender or took no public stand and political observers expected the Houma senator to win easily, probably in the first primary.

Ellender was endorsed by former Gov. Earl Long, brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, and Sen. Russell Long, son of the late senator. Ellender was a Long legislative leader before he was elected to the Senate in 1936.

In his campaigning Ellender emphasized the value of his seniority and committee posts.

Ellis attacked Ellender as a mediocre senator who preferred to travel to serving the people of Louisiana. Ellender has toured U.S. armed forces installations around the world.

Ellis, 47-year-old New Orleans attorney, conducted a long and active campaign. His only previous elective office was a term in the State Senate.

Faulk, a 40-year-old real estate and insurance agent, called for a stronger foreign policy.

Mother Says Woman Who Stabbed Priest Is 'Very Religious'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Josephine Avanzino, 37, who police said stabbed a priest while he was celebrating mass yesterday, is "a very religious girl," her mother says.

"She goes to church every day," 69-year-old Mrs. Natalie Avanzino told officers.

The mother identified her daughter at police headquarters. Miss Avanzino was held today in the psychiatric ward of San Francisco Hospital. The Rev. Bernard C. Cronin, 44, whom she was accused of stabbing at the altar of St. Gabriel's Church, was recovering from a neck wound.

The mother said her daughter had a record of mental illness dating from childhood. She said her daughter turned violently against religion six years ago but swung back to a strong faith four years later.

Arrested while praying in a pew of the church after the stabbing, Miss Avanzino refused to identify herself or make any statement.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Three Baltimore boys told police they met three girls from Williamsport, Md., recently on a moonlight cruise out of Baltimore and wanted to see them again. They stole a car and headed for Williamsport, Detective Joseph Hutchins said.

But they got on the wrong road and wound up, lost, near Hancock, Md. That's where state police found them, out of gas.

They were slated to be charged with car theft today.

Two Sedalians Attend Music Camp at University of Kansas

Carlyle Hume of Sedalia Monday was named in a list of 41 outstanding musicians of high school age who are attending the Midwestern Music and Art Camp at the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kan.

The 18-year-old trumpet player was selected for the outstanding listing because of his musicianship and his contribution to the camp, said Prof. Russell L. Wiley, camp director.

Hume and another Sedalian, Willis Ann Rosenthal, have been attending the six-week camp, held every year for 17 years on the campus of the Kansas school, since June 20.

Hume plays trumpet in both the camp band and the camp orchestra. Miss Rosenthal plays flute in the band.

In addition, both are studying their instruments privately with members of the KU music faculty. Hume is taking lessons in trumpet and piano, and Miss Rosenthal in flute and piano. She also is enrolled in the camp's advanced course in music theory.

Both will be seniors this fall at Smith-Cotton High School in Sedalia, where Mrs. Carl Schrader is the music instructor.

In Sedalia, Hume studies trumpet and, when he returns home, plans to begin piano lessons. Miss Rosenthal studies piano and flute.

For both, it is the second summer they have spent on the KU campus at the Midwestern Music Camp.

Hume's mother is Mrs. Grace Hume, 1901 South Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, 1003 West Seventh, are Willis Ann's parents.

Both have their eyes on a college education. Miss Rosenthal plans to major in music and Hume indicated he is thinking about a career in music.

Both will appear Sunday, Aug. 1, in the final concert of the camp season. The camp orchestra will give its final program in the afternoon in Hoch Auditorium, and the band and chorus will follow with a concert in the KU outdoor theater at dusk.

Guest conductors for both programs will be Richard Duncan, conductor of the Omaha, Neb., Symphony orchestra, and Lloyd Pfautsch, director of vocal music at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill.

During the six weeks they have been at KU, Hume and Miss Rosenthal have played under eight such guest conductors, all outstanding men in the field of music.

There are 281 students in the music camp and 61 in the art camp, for a total of 342.

The 207-piece music camp band, the 100-piece symphony orchestra, and the 170-voice chorus present two concerts each Sunday, one in the afternoon and an outdoor performance in the evening, which campers who are not performing attend regularly, plus townspeople and University students.

Guest conductors such as Guy Fraser Harrison, conductor of the Oklahoma City, Okla., Symphony Orchestra, Gerald Schroth, Chicago conductor, composer, and arranger, Leo Kucinsky, conductor of the Sioux City, Ia., Symphony, Richard Duncan, Omaha, Neb., Symphony conductor, and Daniel Martino, director of bands at Illinois University, appear on each concert.

They work with the camp musical organization for one week each, giving the benefit of playing under the batons of well known personalities in the field of music.

Music campers have also the privilege of studying privately with members of the KU fine arts faculty who are specialists of their particular instruments. Lesson periods range from two one-hour sessions each week to six 30-minute lessons during the six week camp period.

Musical ensembles composed of volunteers also are organized and the best of these appear on the camp programs. Many more "unofficial" ensembles are born in the campers' off hours when from two to a dozen of the young musicians may form an impromptu "combo" or a small dance orchestra for their own amusement.

Hayes' career is unusual in that he held high positions in three departments — operating, traffic and executive. He started as a section hand 31 years ago.

India Extends Neutral Policy to the Movies

NEW DELHI, India, (AP)—The Indian government today extended its neutral foreign policy to the movie theater.

It said it had banned an American-made film about the Korean War as propaganda and that it would do the same for films ballyhooing the Communist side.

The banned American film is Paramount's "Cease - Fire," the story of a patrol which was photographed in South Korea. Banning of the picture was disclosed last week, but no reason was given.

Answering newsmen's queries, an information ministry spokesman today gave these reasons:

"1. It is the kind of propaganda film which, if permitted to be shown by one side, would put the government of India in a position where it could not forbid the other side to show a similar film.

"2. There has been a cease-fire in Korea and the war is over there, so the movie has no meaning."

Paramount representatives here had no comment.

Donnelly Puts Probation Board In New Hands

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly has revamped the State Board of Probation and Parole, putting it in the hands of three former highway patrolmen. Ben B. Stewart, 47, of Cameron was appointed yesterday to succeed O. C. Creach of Camdenton, and Elwood B. Robinson, 49, of Kirksville was appointed to succeed the late John D. Fels of St. Louis.

Earlier this month Donnelly named Lewis M. Means of Fayette to succeed E. W. Cooney of Sedalia, whose term expired.

Creach said he was resigning voluntarily, effective Aug. 1, to take a job in private employment.

The governor has had the Highway Patrol investigating the board's work for months. But he declined to say whether the shakeup was the result of the investigation or whether any irregularities had been discovered.

Stewart served in Donnelly's first administration as deputy warden and warden of the state penitentiary. A Navy veteran, he was on the patrol eight years. He is a member of the Cameron city council and is in the automobile business.

Robinson, former chief of police at Moberly, was with the patrol 13½ years. A graduate of the criminal investigation course at Northwestern University, he has been an agent of the State Liquor Control Department since 1948.

Stewart and Means are Democrats, Robinson a Republican.

Chinese Reds Lodge 'Grave Protest' Over Plane Battle

TOKYO, Wednesday (AP)—The Chinese Communists announced today they have lodged a "grave protest" over the shooting down of two of their planes off Hainan Island Sunday by U. S. Navy jets.

A statement issued by Vice Foreign Minister Chang Han-fu, broadcast over Peiping radio, claimed the American planes violated Chinese skies in shooting down the planes.

The United States insists the Red planes attacked over the open sea and that jets, protecting a search for possible survivors of a downed British airliner, shot them down.

The United States itself is preparing a strong protest to the Chinese Communists.

They talked for a while. He had several beers and then fell asleep. His mother left the apartment about 9 p.m.

Since last April six dead dogs have been found mutilated in that manner, in the same block. The latest was found yesterday.

Police Return Slayer's Boss To Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A contractor was being brought to Indianapolis from East St. Louis today to tell what he knows about Victor Lively, who is charged with the hotel room slaying of Dorothy Poore, 18, who was killed and her body stuffed in a hotel room dresser drawer.

Albert Cohen, who employed Lively as a salesman in St. Louis, waived extradition on a charge of being an accessory after the fact.

Lively, a 25-year-old Texan, told Indianapolis police he called Cohen after the Clinton girl was strangled. He said Cohen sent two men to help him stuff the girl's body in a dresser drawer. Cohen denied the story.

Cohen, who told of befriending Lively after picking him up as a hitch-hiker, put police on the man's trail in the St. Louis area last week. He reported Lively had become excited and left after reading of the killing in an Indianapolis newspaper.

Police hoped questioning of Cohen would help clear up discrepancies in statements given by Lively.

The Indianapolis Star said authorities believe Lively was a "contact man" for a prostitution ring and lured the girl to his room with a promise of a respectable job. Lively described Miss Poore as a "nice girl" and said she resisted his advances.

The mysterious "Ruth," named by Lively as the girl's companion, was believed to be a prostitute recruiting business for a vice ring. She is being sought.

The job offer was borne out by Lively's use of the name "O'Shea" in registering at the Claypool Hotel. Miss Poore had been to the O'Shea employment agency in her job hunting here. The Claypool reported that a woman telephoned for "Mr. O'Shea" a short time before Lively registered.

Mechanic Is Found Shot to Death

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—A 53-year-old Trenton mechanic was found shot to death early today near his parked car, the sheriff's office reported.

It identified the man as Wayne Batson. The body was found in a patch of weeds 6¼ miles west of here.

Investigators said a .22 caliber rifle shell was discovered near the body.

Authorities said Batson was not married.

Coast Guard Cutter Serves As Floating Radio Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—For two years a sleek white Coast Guard cutter, the Courier, has been anchored off the island of Rhodes in the Aegean Sea—a floating radio station broadcasting the American story to the Near East and southern Russia.

Her antenna, a retractable device which can shoot up to 172 feet, is pulled into the air by a small balloon which floats at 740 feet.

For 12 hours each day the call goes out: "This is the Courier, seaborne relay base for the Voice of America." The call is in 16 languages, including Turkish, Arabic, Persian, Urdu, Ukrainian and Russian.

The Courier staff's first job is to make friends for America in the Near East countries. Its second job is to beam the American story behind the Iron Curtain into southern Russia.

Programs to the Near East are concentrated between 6:30 p.m. and 10 p.m., when citizens of the area collect in coffee houses to talk and listen. They especially like light music, drama and short stories.

Programs to Russia start after midnight when people with hidden radios can take the chance of listening.

Capt. O.C.B. Wev, the Courier's commanding officer since she was commissioned, feels certain the message is reaching an increasing audience. Discussing the Courier in Washington, on his way to a new assignment as chief intelligence officer for the port of New Orleans, he said:

"This spring we noticed the Russians were particularly anxious to jam our programs to the Ukraine. We don't think they succeeded because we use so many channels at different times of the day.

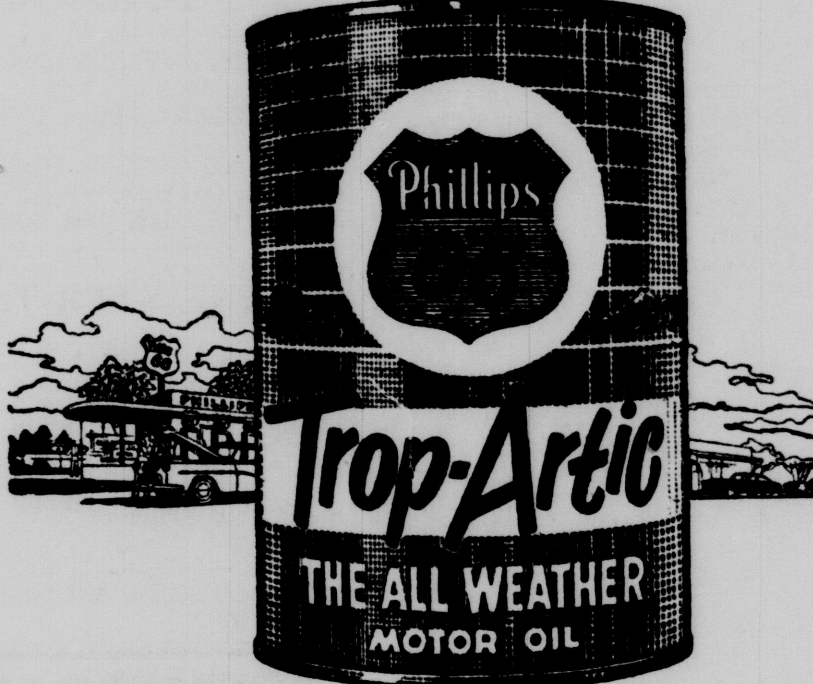

"But their jamming fits in with the rumors we have from other sources that the Communists are having trouble controlling the people of the Ukraine."

Schulz Holds Warsaw While His Mates Circle Bases 15-2

Sedalia's Whiz Kids, behind the pitching of Ralph "Skip" Schulz, came through Monday to defeat the Warsaw Merchants 15-2 in a five inning game. It was the last of the first round games to be played in the 19th annual Missouri State Semi-Pro tournament now in session at Liberty Park.

The game was called at the end of the fifth by virtue of the 10-run lead tournament ruling. It was the first game to come to an end as early as the fifth.

In the second game of the evening, the Sedalia Air Force Base Marauders eliminated the Marshall Merchants when they won a short game 9-1. The game was called at the end of the seventh by virtue of an eight-run lead rule.

In the case of both games, they started off as if there would be stiff competition. They went to the third innings before fireworks broke loose.

Sedalia's Whiz Kids opened with scoring one run in the first and second while Warsaw failed to tally. Neither scored in the third. But in the fourth the Kids broke loose with a 10 run rally which iced the game. They added three in the top of the fifth while Warsaw's only scores came in the fourth—two.

Jim Moore, from Buffalo, recruited by the Kids, hit a grand slam home run in the fourth. It was the big bingo which helped the 10-run scoring of the inning. He also led in runs batted in with four while teammates were able to collect two.

Bill Cleary, Boonville B.J. Lions, playing second base, was the leading hitter with three for four trips to the plate. Foster Tekotte, also of Boonville, had two for three.

Every Kid on the team scored at least one run.

Schulz pitched airtight baseball allowing but four hits while his teammates collected 12 for their 15 runs.

SAFB 9, Marshall 1

Marshall jumped to a first inning lead of one run. But this lasted only until the bottom of the fourth when the Airmen began finding the range and started hitting, scoring four runs.

Four more runs were added in the bottom of the fifth, and then one in the bottom of the seventh to cut off the game. Marshall was able to score only the lone tally of the first.

Marks had little trouble with strong support behind him on the part of the Airmen. He allowed but four scattered hits. His teammates had but one error against the opposition's five, which was costly.

Little League—Jaycee Home Runs Spell Out Victory

Home runs by Holman and Horner, both in the sixth, led the Jaycees to a 5 to 4 decision over Kiwanis while the Elks scored 15 runs in 4 hits to defeat Rotary 15-8 in the Little League major's games played at the LL Stadium Tuesday night.

It was an all-even game at 3-3 when Holman went to bat with one out in the last of the sixth for the Jaycees. He poked a 4-bagger and Watson grounded out to short. Horner then walked to the plate, picked up a stick and pounded out another homer. Rotary tied it after that in the top of the seventh, but three doubles in a row after two were out, by Mulcahey, Gibbs and Shepherd, scored two more Jaycee runs and gave the team the game.

Mulcahey was the winning pitcher, although he toiled only one inning, and Cole, who went in for the last of the seventh, took the loss.

Hits were few in the Elks-Rotary contest, but the runs mounted until the Elks had a 15-8 victory. The winners had four hits, three singles and a double, the latter by Garrison. Rotary had three hits, including a double by Morris and a triple by Benner which were hit in succession during a fifth inning rally that scored 5 of the loser's runs.

Elks led from the start, with 2 in the first to one in the first by Rotary. The Elks added four in the second and Rotary put in two in the third. In the fourth Rotary made one more for a 7-3 advantage and they ran off with the game with 8 in the fifth. Rotary's half of the fifth provided a rally that was stopped 7 runs short of a tie.

Carson was the winning hurler and Nichols suffered the loss.

Ban Johnson League Race Among 6 Teams

MOBERLY (P)—Only one length separates the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's first and sixth place teams after 14 second half games.

The Mexico Ramblers and the Boonville Lions are co-leaders, with three victories in their first four starts. Boonville grabbed a share of the lead by dealing the Ramblers their initial defeat, 7-1, Sunday night at Mexico.

Marshall appointed a new manager last week and showed encouraging signs. With Lonnie Mitchell at the helm, the Marshall club battled Jefferson City for 11 innings Sunday night before dropping a 5-4 decision. The loss was Marshall's fifth straight in second half play and 17th of the season.

Five games are on tap through next Sunday night and the schedule gives Boonville a chance to take sole possession of the first place. The Lions meet Sedalia Tuesday night at Boonville and play Sunday night at Jefferson City. Mexico goes to Sedalia next Sunday night for its only game.

Leo Declares Giants Are Not Collapsing

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

The possibility of a Giant collapse was pooh-poohed by Manager Leo Durocher today but New York fans had cause for alarm. A humiliating 9-1 loss to Brooklyn last night stretched the slump-ridden Giants' losing streak to five straight and chiselled their first place lead over the Dodgers to only three.

"I'm not worried about a thing," Durocher said after last night's loss. "We're still in a great spot. They've still got to catch us."

The Dodgers' 15-hit victory was their first over Sal Maglie at Ebbets Field, Maglie had whipped them 10 straight times in Brooklyn.

Milwaukee's Braves, whose dimmed pennant chances began to flicker anew after their three-game sweep of the Giants over the past weekend, made it five in a row with a 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh. Gene Conley, Milwaukee's 6-foot-8 rookie right-hander, doled out four hits while Billy Bruton and Eddie Mathews were providing the offensive spark to move the third-place Braves to within 10½ games of the Giants.

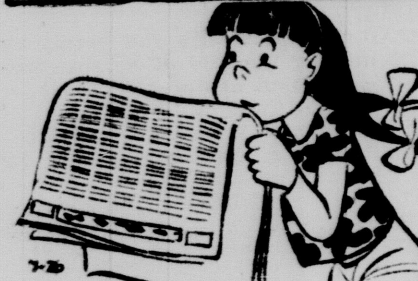

Bruton opened the game with a triple off loser Bob Purkey and scored on a single by Mathews. In the third, Bruton singled, stole second and scored on Mathews' second single. Doubles by Joe Adcock and Andy Patko in the sixth accounted for Milwaukee's third run.

All other clubs had an off day as they girded themselves for the busy schedule today. The spotlight is on Chicago, where the second-place New York Yankees and third-place White Sox meet in the first of a three-game series. Cleveland, which leads the Yankees by a game and a half, is host to Boston's Red Sox, whom they've beaten 13 times in 14 meetings.

The Dodgers, who were scheduled to meet Chicago's Cubs this afternoon, made short work of Maglie last night, blasting him for 11 hits before sending him to the showers in the sixth inning. They continued their barrage on relievers Hoyt Wilhelm, Paul Giel and Al Corwin. Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson collected three hits apiece.

The Giants, who had whipped the Dodgers in their last six meetings, were limited to five hits by Carl Erskine.

Nominates Bobby Feller to Get 'Comeback of Year' Award

By JACK HAND
(For Gayle Tablot)

NEW YORK (P)—When the time comes to pick a "Comeback of the Year" for 1954, here is a motion picture that the secretary cast a unanimous ballot for Bobby Feller, one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

Bobby won't like it for he is a proud man who insists he never was away. Yet, he must know the Cleveland club all but gave up on him in '52 and '53 and took him off the regular starting rotation for a stretch.

Time glides by in this business or any other—and the 17-year-old Iowa plowboy of 1936 becomes, at 35, a veteran "in the twilight of his career," as the boys dearly love to write.

It seems only yesterday that you

Wes Santee Vows to Run Record Mile

WASHINGTON (P)—Wes Santee says his bid for the world mile record is going to be a serious one with hard work the basic ingredient.

The great Kansas miler outlined his plans in an appearance yesterday before the Touchdown Club of Washington. Here's how he said he is going to go after the record:

1. Combine heavy cross-country training with short sprints throughout the fall.

2. Swing onto the boards for the eastern indoor circuit during the winter.

3. Race against the clock next spring in an effort to lower the world mile standard of 3:58.0 held by John Landy of Australia.

"I'm going to concentrate on track, train as hard as I can and sacrifice everything I have to bring the mile record back to the United States," Santee declared. Santee showed up in the uniform of a Marine corporal. He is completing training as a platoon commander at Quantico, Va., and will head back to the University of Kansas in September to complete his studies.

The following September he'll return to Quantico for a two-year hitch in the Marine Corps. Santee thinks Landy will beat him in their mile run at Vancouver, Canada, this summer, largely because Landy has had greater experience in direct competition.

The Kansan, who has run the mile in 4:00.6, said he figures somebody will lower the record to 3:55 in the near future and let it be known he thinks that "somebody" will be Wes Santee.

Asked how long a 3:55 record would stand, the Kansan replied: "Who knows? Maybe 100 years from now, they may think of that as slow time."

Finals Today In PGA Golf Pit Top Men

ST. PAUL, Minn. (P)—Chick Harbert and Wally Burkemo, two golfers who thrive on the kind of competition where they face the other fellow and try to beat him, meet today in the final round of what may be the best played PGA Championship in the postwar era.

It is the second man-to-man clash between these two, who live and work scarcely 10 miles apart in suburban Detroit, and the third PGA final for each.

In yesterday's grueling 36-hole semifinals, Burkemo, the defending champion, almost crushed Cary Middlecoff with one brief string of birdie shooting, let him get away and then came back to win on the 37th.

Harbert, twice runner-up but never a winner in this tournament, had to go clear to the 36th green to down Tommy Bolt, 1 up.

Burkemo and Harbert clashed in the second round of the 1951 PGA at Oakmont, and the blonde, bright blue-eyed Burkemo won on the 19th hole. That was when Wally, playing his first championship, went all the way to the final before he took a 7 and 6 drubbing from Sam Snead.

Burkemo only lasted until the third round the next year, when it was Harbert's turn to go to the final, but he took the title last year at Birmingham, Mich., beating Felice Torza, 2 and 1.

Against Bolt yesterday, Harbert gained a 2-up lead at the 27-hole mark and then started to shoot steady pars until the holes ran out.

That admirable strategy didn't work. Bolt matched the pars for seven holes, then, when it was a case of win or quit, he sank an almost unbelievable 40-foot putt for a birdie on the 35th. Both hit the final green in two shots and Harbert, the pressure now on him, ended the match by ramming a 12-footer into the cup.

Burkemo, starting the afternoon round, went from 1 down at the 20th to 3 up at the 25th by shooting birdies on four of five holes. But after the 30th he seemed to be tiring.

When Middlecoff rammed an approach stiff on the 36th green the match was square.

On the extra hole, however, Burkemo, outdriven by some 30 yards, laid his approach within nine inches of the cup for a sure birdie. Middlecoff couldn't match that.

The American Broadcasting Co. lifted the wraps a little from the plan they used to lure the NCAA's big football program from the National Broadcasting Co. and it showed a 26-week winter and spring schedule of college sports.

The joint announcement by ABC and the NCAA came yesterday. Robert H. O'Brien, executive vice president of ABC, and Les Arries, the network's sports director, said plans for the additional sports shows were not yet complete. But Arries said it probably would begin with the LaSalle-Niagara basketball game Dec. 11.

Other possibilities for the Saturday telecasts, Arries said, include the Dartmouth Winter Carnival, the Penn and Drake Relays, the IRA Regatta at Syracuse, the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Track Meet and the Interscholastic Rodeo at Colorado A&M.

The football TV program includes Oklahoma at California on Sept. 18, Texas at Baylor Nov. 6, and Missouri at Maryland Nov. 25.

Joe Parks had so many fancy offers on his old car on a turn-in that he decided if it was that good, he'd better keep it.

Roy Mack 'No' To Sale of As Despite Rumor

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Roy Mack emerged in his own light today as the current strong man of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The normally quiet, unassuming executive vice president of the American League club stuck his jaw out a country mile at the mid-summer baseball meetings in New York yesterday and announced the A's are not for sale, a half a hundred rumors notwithstanding.

And if that wasn't plain enough talk, the eldest son of Connie Mack declared he was in the throes of a family squabble with his younger brother Earle to obtain complete control of the club and change the downtrodden Athletics into a pennant contender.

Several weeks ago, Manager Eddie Joost had a row with outfielder Gus Zernial over the big slugger's placement in the batting lineup. The argument was carried into Roy Mack's office.

When Zernial and Joost had departed, Roy was asked by sports writers what it was all about. His rather wistful comment:

"Nobody ever tells me anything."

Apparently something new has been added. Yesterday it was Roy doing the telling and in no uncertain terms. Admitting that he had discussed the future of the A's with a syndicate headed by Arnold Johnson of Chicago, who has been pushing Kansas City for

Cities Service Faces Exhaustion of Supply

WASHINGTON (P)—The Cities Service Gas Co. can expect to exhaust its natural gas reserves in 25 years and must plan accordingly, a witness said yesterday.

Edward L. Dunn, Washington accountant, testified in a Federal Power Commission hearing that Cities Service must use annual rates to depreciate present investments over 25 years.

Then he backed down. I don't know why but he did."

The A's stock is divided just equally among Connie Sr., Earle and Roy.

"Go ask Roy where he is going to get the money," was General Manager Earle's comment.

Canvass Vote Of Primaries In Texas Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—County Democratic executive committees meet today to canvass the primary election returns that indicate runoff elections for governor and other Texas offices.

The runoff will come Aug. 28 after the State Democratic Executive Committee in turn makes a canvass Aug. 9 of all primary returns, district and state.

Meanwhile, Gov. Allan Shivers led Atty. Ralph Yarborough by 650,919 votes to 632,040 in latest returns announced last night by the unofficial Texas Election Bureau. Two lesser candidates—Arion B. Davis of Dallas, with 16,062 votes, and J. J. Holmes of Austin, with 19,538—combined to force the runoff.

Candidates must have a clear majority of all votes to win.

The campaign for governor, now narrowed to Yarborough and Shivers, promised to be a bare-knuckled, dog-eat-dog fight.

Shivers led the Texas Democratic party organization into the Republican camp in 1952 and was the moving force that put Texas in the Republican presidential election column. Yarborough supported Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

In other results that became apparent as the final vote counts trickled in:

1. It was apparent that U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Rep. Sam Rayburn had won re-nomination by heavy majorities.

2. Two congressmen, Representatives Ken Regan of Midland and Wingate Lucas of Grapevine, in the populous Fort Worth district, apparently were defeated. Regan had not conceded defeat to State Sen. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, who had a slim 169-vote lead out of more than 50,000. But Lucas already had conceded defeat to Mayor Jim Wright of Weatherford, who had a 3-to-2 majority out of about 60,000 votes.

3. The solid power of George Parr, political boss in south Texas, apparently had been cracked, temporarily at least. His candidate for district judge won apparent election but his district attorney seemed lost and his nephew, Sheriff Archer Parr of Duval County, trailed an opponent for state representative by 63 votes in latest unofficial returns.

In Saturday's voting, however, Parr's "Old Party" candidates defeated the opposition candidates by a little better than 3 to 1 in his home county of Duval.

Congress Highlights...

WASHINGTON (AP)—Use of a debate-limiting maneuver by the Republican leadership revives — at least for a time — the do-or-die spirit of senators opposing President Eisenhower's atomic energy program.

In another around-the-clock session, GOP Leader Knowland of California uses a parliamentary device to table amendments without debate. Designed to hasten the discussion he terms, a filibuster, the move arouses opponents and darkens hope for an early break in the talkfest, now in its 13th day.

FOREIGN AID — The foreign aid money bill, already slashed 13 per cent in committee, comes before the House. Administration leaders count on dramatic Far Eastern developments to help discourage attempts at further cuts. Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) says incidents involving Red Chinese and Western planes "undoubtedly will have a strong psychological effect." The bill, as approved by the House Appropriations Committee, calls for $2,895,944,000 in new foreign aid cash for the fiscal year that began July 1.

Third In Series On Traffic Report--

Suggests Crackdown on Double Parking, Ban on 'Feeding' Meters

A few weeks ago the City Council hired Traffic Associates, St. Louis, to survey Sedalia's traffic problems and to give recommendations for their solution. A preliminary report on that survey was given by Traffic Associates last week at the council meeting.

Today's article continues The Democrat's presentation of that preliminary report. On Sunday the general aims were given. On Monday was described the recommended mayor's traffic advisory commission, comprehensive traffic ordinance and use of a traffic consultant. Today's article, the third of five, emphasizes parking problems.

In its preliminary report, Traffic Associates, St. Louis, recommends that Sedalia develop a continuing program of traffic regulation enforcement with stress on those regulations, the violation of which contribute to traffic accidents, congestion, delay and inconvenience.

One of the worst violations in Sedalia is double parking, according to Joseph J. Feuchter, traffic engineer and president of Traffic Associates, who gave the report. The prohibition of this and other parking violations should be strictly enforced, Feuchter said.

He also said that parking time limits should be enforced, which would mean that no longer would drivers be able to park beside a parking meter and return through-out the day to "feed" the meter. He added that the city should remove all parking spaces or stalls and all parking meters now in conflict with existing ordinances. He said there were several of them in Sedalia.

The city should also prohibit parking in front of schools and places of public assemblage. He added that the city should have less than a 36-foot roadway, so as to provide a minimum lane width of ten feet for each direction of travel.

Feuchter explained the necessity for this by stating that the recommended parking lane width is eight feet, and the recommended travel lane width is ten feet. On a street permitting parking on both sides and two-way traffic, the widths would total 36 feet. Any street less than this in width would have to have some restriction on parking in order to permit wide enough travel lanes. Feuchter said that if engineering records are not available, a survey to determine roadway widths should be started promptly.

He also urged studies to determine the advisability of making streets with roadway width of less than 36 feet one-way, with parking on one side only.

Other studies recommended would be one on the possible elimination of angle parking on the north, east and south sides of the courthouse and on Main Street, and another on the possibility of re-timing traffic control signals on Ohio from Main to Broadway to provide progressive traffic flow on Ohio.

ANGLE PARKING—The report by Traffic Associates recommends a study to determine the advisability of eliminating angle parking on Main Street, illustrated here, and on the north, east and south sides of the courthouse, providing more room for moving traffic. (Walch Photo.)

Seven specific intersections are recommended for surveys of volume, movement and behavior of traffic to determine the proper timing of signals, the period during which such signals should operate as stop-and-go and when they should be off and flashing.

These intersections are Broadway and Ohio, Broadway and Massachusetts, Broadway and Grand, Third and Missouri, 16th and Grand, Engineer and Broadway.

Final recommendation on parking is to relocate all curb parking spaces or stalls and parking meters to provide a minimum length of 18 feet for end spaces or stalls and 22 feet for interior spaces or stalls, and to provide these three precautions:

A "no parking" space within 25 feet of a crosswalk (or the extension of what would normally be the crosswalk) at all intersections;

A "no parking" distance within 35 feet upon the approach of any flashing beacon, stop sign, yield sign or traffic control signal located at the side of the roadway;

A "no parking" distance within 20 feet of the driveway entrance

Sedalia provide for installation of new, and replacement of obsolete, damaged and non-standard, traffic control devices in accord with that manual.

Specifically, existing stop signs which are not reflectorized or otherwise not properly illuminated should be replaced immediately with signs meeting standard requirements.

Such reflectorized stop signs should be installed on all streets intersecting with legally designated major streets.

Feuchter said that all traffic control signals should be checked to make sure that there is no overlapping of the amber lights. The amber light should shine only in one direction at a time. One street's stop light should show red while the intersecting street's light shows green and amber. In that way, only disregard for the red light could result in a collision.

(Tomorrow's Further specific improvement recommendations in traffic direction and road repairs.)

If the number of cricket chirps per minute is divided by four and added to 40, the resulting number will usually be the approximate temperature of the air in degrees, Fahrenheit.

Gigantic Brush Fire Burns Into Its Second Week

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A gigantic brush fire, roaring through 5,000 to 6,000 acres of pine and post oak southeast of here, burned into its second week today.

But a fire that cut a 2,000-acre swath out of cedar brake and brush country 20 miles northwest of the state capital was believed "generally under control" after destroying three homes in the Lake Travis area last night.

The roaring fires, visible for miles last night, added smoke and eye-smarting cinders and ashes to drought-harried central Texas' miseries.

The blazes flared to major size last night after a day of 109-degree temperatures in this region, without normal rainfall for months. "The state highway patrol said some 250 volunteers had the fire around Dodd City, lake resort community to the northwest, under "general control" before 10 p.m. last night. But the big blaze threatening the eastern edge of the 5,000-6,000-acre Bastrop State Park, 35 miles to the southeast, burned on.

The house in New Haven, Conn., where Ethelbert Nevin, composer of "The Roseary" and "Mighty Lak a Rose" died, is marked with a bronze plaque.
